

Social Media Caption:

Thank you to News 12 Long Island for their excellent article! By partnering with Suffolk County Police Department, Gershow Recycling had the opportunity to give out free catalytic converter etching kits with corresponding serial numbers to prevent thieves.

Lawrence Schillinger is quoted in the article as saying, "Whenever scrap recyclers receive a catalytic converter with this information etched into it, they scan the person's ID who turned it in and are able to check if it was stolen from another person."

To check out News 12's article, please go to

<https://longisland.news12.com/suffolk-police-hold-catalytic-convert-crime-prevention-event-a-mid-spike-in-thefts>

#GershowRecycling #News12LongIsland #SuffolkCountyPoliceDepartment #Community

Website Post:

With the help of the Suffolk County Police Department, Gershow Recycling was able to hand out free catalytic converter etching kits. With these kits, they have corresponding serial numbers linked to a database to prevent the issue of stealing.

Lawrence Schillinger is quoted in a News 12 Long Island article on this topic as saying, "Whenever scrap recyclers receive a catalytic converter with this information etched into it, they scan the person's ID who turned it in and are able to check if it was stolen from another person."

To check out News 12's article, please go to

<https://longisland.news12.com/suffolk-police-hold-catalytic-convert-crime-prevention-event-a-mid-spike-in-thefts>

